Lost 12 Days In Wilderness, Chip Lake Girl Is Rescued

Successfully completing a 15-hour search in the wilderness surrounding Chip Lake, Alberta, 90 miles west of Edmonton, combined forces of the ATC Alaskan Division, Arctic Training Unit, Search and Rescue Squad, and aircraft from the 1452d Base Unit, together with the RCMP, Wednesday located Nancy Sedin, who has been missing from her home since June 29.

Although somewhat tired and hungry after her 12 days of wandering through the most desolate country of Western Canada, Miss Sedin was in good shape when found by S-543, Sergeant Brockman, St. Paul, Minn., and Capt. Rocco Santanelli, Newburg, N.Y., members of the Arctic Training Unit.

She was rescued approximately 10 miles from her home by members of the ground party, which searched through the muskeg, swamps, and tundra, while overhead five aircraft from search and rescue and the 1452d Base Unit of the 1452d Base unit scanned the terrain for signs of the missing girl. VICTORIA, July 12.—(CP)—Liberal and Progressive Conservative party members of the British Columbia legislature at a caucus here yesterday unanimously endorsed a resolution stating that "in view of war conditions and the necessity of united efforts in the adequately meeting our postwar problems, it is considered in the best interests of the people and of good government in Canada that the coalition of the two parties should continue."

The resolution will be sent to the respective organizations and supporters for their consideration. In releasing copies of the resolution at the conclusion of the caucus, Premier Bennett declared to elaborate on this subject or others discussed during the day.

Whether provincial conventions will be called specifically to discuss the resolution has been in motion previous to the caucus.

Premier Bennett refused to comment on the question of an election in the near future, saying he had "no very extensive knowledge of each subject and that the government's position was clarified."

From Dong Dang Japs Attack Chinese Troops Across Border of Indo-China

By GEORGE WANG
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

CHUNGKING, July 12.—(BUP)—Japanese troops, fighting for elbow room in the northern tip of French Indo-China, have launched repeated attacks from Dong Dang, striking across the border at Chinese positions south of Chienkwan, a Chinese communication line announced today.

Dong Dang, 10 miles north of Lang Son, is located in an area along the former main Japanese communication line from Shanghai to Singapore.

The Chinese high command also announced the loss of Tinkang, 170 miles southwest of Canton on the southwest coast of Kwangtung province.

Tinkang fell on July 5 when Japanese forces driving from Muikui, at the eastern base of the Lichow peninsula, swept into the city.

Air-Sea Protection

Safety Lane Across Atlantic Carries Europe Troops Home

By JAMES F. KING

LONDON, July 12.—(AP)—The Allies have bridged the Atlantic with the greatest air-sea rescue system ever devised in dispatching planes and men home from Europe. Many of the men and machines are headed straight for the Pacific.

Great Britain, the United States and Brazil, have marked two direct paths across the ocean with chains of ships, stationed like beacons to guide planes along the way and help any which may be forced down.

Brig. Gen. Karl S. Hoag, commander of the European division of the United States Air Transport Command, described the mass movement of men and machines yesterday as the "greatest aerial effort of all time."

Of 4137 planes starting across the Atlantic, only two have been lost without trace.

60,000 SINCE APRIL

More than 60,000 troops have been flown to the United States since April 26. Another 20,000 will fly there this month, most of them battle veterans with enough points for discharge or specialists en route to the Pacific.

The U.S. 8th and 12th Air Forces are moving on Orléans, France, to the Pacific.

Much of the air-sea rescue system still is secret. The number of ships cannot be disclosed, but a third is British, a seventh Brazilian and the rest are American. The Brazilian ship Bahia sank last week while on air-sea rescue duty, presumably after hitting a floating mine.

Two evacuation routes have been marked. The northern passage begins at the British Isles and passes through Iceland to Newfoundland. The southern route starts at Marseilles, carries to Casablanca across the hump of Africa and then to the Azores, then to Natal, Brazil. It swings through the Caribbean to the United States.

Long-range land planes stand ready on both sides of the Atlantic and on islands in between to speed to the scene of any crash.

Coast lumber May develop

VICTORIA, July 12.—(CP)—If no rain falls for 26 days, British Columbia sawmills, producing in the neighborhood of 4,000,000 board feet of lumber a day, will be closed, precipitating one of the worst lumber shortages in the history of the province.

With logging operations halted in the rich timberlands of Vancouver Island and the lower mainland and with millions of board feet of dried and bucked logs seared by flames of raging forest fires, the province's shortage of lumber is acute because of a lack of labor, faces a critical phase which may further lie up construction not only on the coast but in other parts of Canada.

WIDESPREAD EFFECT

Ramifications of a long tie-up of the B.C. woods—and there is no sign of any improvement in the weather conditions—would be felt across Canada and the United States and on the war fronts.

Statistics reporting millions of feet of logs, B.C. lumber mills this year aim to cut 1,800,000,000 board feet of lumber. The province is divided between the domestic market, the United Kingdom and the United States, with some lumber as well going to other parts of the empire and to other countries.

In Victoria it is believed sawmills have a good supply on hand but some mills may have less logs and the mills may be forced to close.

Italian Waif Is Smuggled to U.S.

BOSTON, July 12.—(AP)—While nearly 4,000 soldiers roared with glee yesterday because they were back in the United States, a small, drooping figure in khaki walked from the United States to the immigration inspector beside him—because the man was an Italian boy who'd been smuggled across the border.

New York, July 12.—(AP)—A blue-eyed, blue-haired and blond, Natalie (Katie) Pivello, an orphan, still wore the uniform of the United States Army, provided after they released him from a camp at Schweinfurt, Germany.

They said he had been imprisoned there after killing a Nazi officer who had abused him. Because of his small size, it was easy to bring him across the border. Several British, in a barracks had been ready to give him legal adoption. Immigration officials are awaiting a ruling from Washington.

Mussolini's Wife Defends It Duce

NEW YORK, July 12.—(AP)—Donna Rachele Mussolini, widow of the Italian dictator, was quoted in a broadcast from Rome last night as defending her husband and his actions.

Clete Roberts, Rome correspondent of the American Broadcasting Company, said Signora Mussolini told him in an interview at an internment camp of 26 miles from Rome that she has started to write the story of her life with Mussolini. "After living with him for years, I know him very well," Roberts said she told him. "Only I can tell the truth."

Asked about Claretta Petacci, Mussolini's mistress who was executed with him, Signora Mussolini declared: "They have done well to hang her." Roberts said. She added: "Mussolini never had anything to do with any woman. He never let them have any influence over him. All that propaganda they put out just to ruin him... I was the only one he thought anything of and I was the only woman who thought something of him."

Turkish Status Is Under Discussion

LONDON, July 12.—(Reuters)—Territorial integrity and free and unobstructed self-determination are the basic conditions of future relations between Russia and Turkey, foreign minister Hassan Salameh of Turkey told reporters yesterday.

British officials, meanwhile, were in conference report that a joint note was sent to the British and United States governments expressing their interest in the maintenance of Turkish independence and of her present frontiers.

It was known, however, that the British government has expressed its interest in the future status of the Dardanelles, said to be one of the subjects entering into the Russo-Turkish negotiations for conclusion of a new friendship pact.

The Turkish foreign minister, on return home from the San Francisco world security conference, last week questioned the Turkish view in that future of the Dardanelles and revision of the Turco-Russian pact are two distinct questions and required to be drawn into discussions on reported Russian proposals for bringing the pact up to date.

McNaughton Checks Quebec Facilities

QUEBEC, July 12.—(CP)—Defense Minister McNaughton will arrive here Thursday to inspect the Quebec harbor and see what facilities can be provided for docking vessels bringing back military personnel from overseas. It was announced here last night by Brig. Edmund Blais, officer commanding military district No. 3 (Quebec).

MAILEYBURY, Ont., July 12.—(CP)—Lloyd Vaidis Brown, 18, was killed yesterday when a neighbor, Michael Gaffney, 27, mistook him for a bear and shot at him. Gaffney said Brown, dressed in dark clothing, was partially hidden by underbrush near the Brown farm where traps had been set for bears. Dr. J. S. McCullough, chief coroner for Temiskaming district, said no inquiry would be held.

Orange Lodges Fete "Glorious Twelfth" July

By The Canadian Press
Members of Loyal Orange Lodges throughout Canada last night tuned up their fire and drum bands in preparation for the Dominion's first July celebration since victory in Europe.

Hundreds of servicemen home from European battlefields were expected to take part in bigger and better proportions the ranks of the parade of the Loyal Orange Lodges. Feathered officials predicted fine, leather weather for the Dominion's first July celebration since victory in Europe.

In Winnipeg, Orangemen followed the traditional white charger bearing "King Billy" to the city station where they will board trains for the annual picnic at Winnipeg Beach. Commemorative services at the Centopah will precede the parade.

Public memorial services for war dead and thanksgiving ceremonies for victory in Europe will be held at the city hall in Winnipeg. The parade will be held at the city hall in Winnipeg.

Du Pont Company Restrains Trade

NEW YORK, July 12.—(AP)—Federal Judge Simon H. Rifkind ruled yesterday that E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company, Inc., National Lead Company and Titan Company Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of the National Lead Company, formed a combination and conspiracy in restraint of trade.

In an opinion in the government's antitrust suit charging the firms with a monopoly and conspiracy in the titanium industry, he wrote: "Whether the form of association they created be called an international cartel, a patent pool or a technical and commercial organization is of little consequence."

Whether the form of association they created be called an international cartel, a patent pool or a technical and commercial organization is of little consequence. Judge Rifkind said it was the intention of the defendants "that the substance of the cartel, accelerated by the exchange of patents, patent applications and 'know how' should, as far as possible, remain the prize of the parties, and constitute their life and weapon against outsiders."

Canadian Girl Was Nazi Captive

TORONTO, July 12.—(CP)—The story of a Canadian girl who was caught up in the invasion of Poland and now is anxious to locate her father in Canada is told in a letter received yesterday by friends from a German camp. The girl, 16, 600 Poles are being fed and housed by UNRRA.

The girl, Anna Czebul, was born in Winnipeg 21 years ago. She was visiting in Poland in 1939 when the Germans invaded. In 1942 she was taken to a German camp. She was held in the Dachau concentration camp. Then she was put to work in a German factory. On May 21, 1945, she was released to Hohensel.

Air Parley Plans Post-War Matters

LONDON, July 12.—(CP)—Discussions aimed at reaching agreement for the pooling of revenues, expenses and aircraft for airlines operated by British and Dominion companies on Empire routes, form a major part of the deliberations at the Commonwealth Air Transport Council meeting now in progress. Viscount Swinton, head of the United Kingdom delegation, told a press conference last night. Agreement along these lines already has been signed by Britain and South Africa, he said. But no final decisions have been reached with other Dominions and it is not possible to say to what extent cooperation would be possible on the North Atlantic route, where he said trans-Canada Air Lines and British Overseas Airways Corporation will provide daily service.

Canada also was involved in the discussions relating to trans-Pacific service but study of that route is not so far advanced as in regard to the North Atlantic service and services to South Africa, India, Australia and New Zealand.

Indians Request Control of Funds

OTTAWA, July 2.—(CP)—The national Indian government, formed at a recent convention of North American Indian tribes, has forwarded a request to the Canadian secretary of state a formal demand that $15,000,000 be held in trust by the Indian Affairs department, be turned over to the "Indian nation."

Judge H. L. Lorvelville, Quebec secretary-treasurer of the Indian government, said in a letter to the state secretary that the executive appointed at the recent convention will take over administration of Indian affairs on July 20.

Letters addressed to the Governor-General and Prime Minister Mackenzie King, pleaded for recognition of a royal proclamation, dated Oct. 1, 1944, which granted the Indian nation the right to administer its own affairs.

A letter to Defense Minister McNaughton urged that all Indians now serving in the forces be released immediately.

Discharge Ratings For Civil Servants

OTTAWA, July 12.—(CP)—Key civil servants in the armed forces, just as men who were in key posts in industry prior to the war, are being given a priority for discharge to civilian life from overseas. It was announced here last night by Brig. Edmund Blais, officer commanding military district No. 3 (Quebec).

Officials Hope For Heavy Crop Of Feed Grains

OTTAWA, July 12.—(CP)—The fondest hope of agricultural Canada today is that 1945 feed production will be good.

"An excellent start has been made," said a spokesman for the Department of Agriculture, "but it is a long way from a 'crop of destiny,' a development on which the welfare of millions of people in Canada and abroad will depend."

The factors are these: 1. Immense stores of feed are required by the United Kingdom and by Europe. Hog production has declined in Canada and the Dominion probably will do no more than meet her minimum contract for the provision of hams to the United Kingdom. Cattle production is up, but the shortage of pork has meant greater purchases of labor and materials. These conditions may cause the 1945 feed crop to be the smallest since 1941. A reduction in United States livestock production will mean greater dependence on Canadian production at a time when the world is in the most serious of modern times.

In many parts of Canada the 1945 crop got away to a slow start with seeding delayed by inclement weather. But officials said that the conditions are not alarming and with suitable weather Canada might well enjoy a bumper crop of feed in most urgent demand.

Civilians Riot In Japan Capital

TOKYO, July 12.—(AP)—The Finnish radio, quoting radio reports heard in Stockholm, said last night that riotous disturbances had broken out in Tokyo, and that about 10,000 people had tried to occupy the government buildings and penetrate into the Imperial palace. After clashes, the Japanese authorities dispersed the crowds, the radio added. According to first reports, there were about 400 killed and injured.

Say Hitler Planned Massacre of Czechs

PRAGUE, July 12.—(AP)—Six former cabinet members in the pre-occupation government of Czechoslovakia under German occupation declared yesterday that Hitler once threatened to execute every 100 Czech and send the rest to Siberia. Testifying at a hearing preliminary to their trial on charges of high treason, they said Hitler made his threat to them after the "protection" of Bohemia and Moravia. Hansman Heinrich Heydrich, had been killed by Czech patriots in 1942.

The six ministers made what appeared to be a pre-arranged effort to shift all responsibility for collaboration with the Nazis on to Hitler's puppet president of the protectorate, Emil Hacha, and his propaganda minister, both of whom were executed.

The six ministers include Richard Biener, who became premier of the German-occupied government of Czechoslovakia last January, and Dr. Yvanov Kreljick, who remained in the cabinet. Others included the minister of agriculture Krubky, Kamenicky of transport, Kalous of finance, and Klement of justice, who was the protectorate supreme court.

Too Many Women Shoot Up Hubbles

CHICAGO, July 12.—(AP)—Too many women are "shooting their husbands" and "expecting judges to be chivalrous," Judge William J. Daily yesterday told a 20-year-old mother charged with assault with intent to kill. "No wonder husbands are getting worse," Judge Daily commented after George Leachner, 36, a war worker, testified that on June 13 his wife shot him in the chest with a revolver.

IS BABY HAPPY?

Are you doing all you can to keep baby happy? If he's crying, perhaps he's not digesting his food properly, missing out on a lot of needed nourishment and feeling uncomfortable.

Libby's HOMOGENIZED Baby Foods is often the answer. HOMOGENIZED Libby's pasteurized process—excludes the walls of food cells so that baby's undeveloped digestive tract can get at the nourishment. Unlike strained foods take about 2 hours to digest, while Libby's strained and HOMOGENIZED Baby Foods may be completely digested in about 15 minutes.

No other baby food can make this claim because no other baby foods are HOMOGENIZED. Write today for free literature showing baby's feeding problems.

Libby's Evaporated Milk is HOMOGENIZED, too.

Supervised Playgrounds

Whatever plans, if any, the Edmonton civic authority cherishes for the establishment of an adequate number of supervised playgrounds in this city, it is surely one that nothing is being done about in a comprehensive way.

During the past several months there have been many instances of children getting into serious mischief in the salvage depot, for instance, was burned down because some youngsters were amusing themselves with matches in the "wrecked grass." A lot of the trouble with air rifles and other guns may be traced to the same mischief.

There is nothing wrong with those children and certainly nothing vicious about them. They get into these scrapes mostly because little provision exists for them to play without getting into a controlled fashion in the open air.

It is important, not only to keep children out of trouble, but also to give them proper and early training in healthful sports that they should have ample facilities for safe and interesting open air play.

There is surely enough vacant real estate in Edmonton to make the plan of building at regular geographic intervals, of public playgrounds properly equipped with those things which best amuse and instruct youngsters.

And these playgrounds should be supervised during all the playing hours of the day. Full time supervision is not only necessary to protect equipment but also to guide and instruct the children.

It is not an expensive business. Supervisors need not be trained athletes or experienced child psychologists. Any healthy young girl with good sense and a liking for children can do the job sufficiently well.

The time is long overdue for the city to give full consideration to the need for more playgrounds.

Cancelled Leaves

The contention that Canada is embarking upon the Pacific war with a force pitifully small and has acted far too hastily in discontinuing military training exercises appears to have confirmation in the report that some of the 30-day leaves promised to men who have volunteered for Pacific duty have been reduced.

This has happened in the case of some men who have been brought home for instructional duty.

Surely the department of defence will reconsider this leave reduction which so flagrantly breaks faith with men of the armed forces.

One can readily understand the action of overseas men who have failed to volunteer for Pacific service. They have done their duty and they are entitled the right to turn their backs on military effort.

Moreover, the attitude of the defence department has not been as particular as phasing in the importance of the Japanese war.

It is for this reason, then and not in spite of it, that one can understand admiration for those troops who, after service in Europe, have volunteered to see the thing through to the end in the Far East.

It is difficult to believe that their promised leave is cancelled or reduced through sheer lack of planning. The only other conclusion is that the defence department has taken this step upon discovering that the Pacific force is so inadequate that extended leave are not possible.

One would think that upon being faced with the alternative of enlarging the Pacific force or having no personnel to fight, the defence department would choose the former step.

The present situation is not pretty.

Italy No Friend

The foreign affairs committee of the United States House of Representatives has voted to authorize President Truman to invite Italy to the United Nations as a full-fledged ally rather than as a "co-belligerent"—a naïve term since the Italians are neither co-belligerent nor ally.

The American congress has a full right to express its views and take whatever stand it pleases in regard to the status of Italy. But since Italy is a member of the co-operative body, it will require more than the invitation of the United States to admit a new member.

Certainly there are millions of individuals throughout the United Nations who will be bitterly opposed to such a step. They will not forget that the United Nations were organized to overthrow a political philosophy which the Italians shared only when they were forced by military might to do so.

Now will they forget that Fascist Italy played quite as despicable and criminal a part in the war as did Germany?

There are undoubtedly powerful organizations and institutions at work trying to regularize Italy's position for reasons of their own.

Surely we are not going to be forced to take Italy's still bloody hand for the sake of any subtle diplomatic game. Italy can not be regarded as our friend and ally until she does great deeds more than she has done up to the present to prove herself such.

Old Wives Tale

One of the more exuberant news publications which issue across the international border has informed its readers of some of the mysterious goings-on in relation to the supposedly pending abdication of Belgian King Leopold.

It seems that the plight of the Belgian monarch has inspired a good deal of scurrilous and fro on the part of European royalty.

For instance, the Dowager Queen Elizabeth of Belgium has paid a frantic visit to the Queen Mother Mary in England to seek her advice in the venal matter.

Said Queen Elizabeth: "What on earth will poor Leopold do?"

Said Queen Mary: "Tell Leopold to start fire and be a king."

Therewith the good Elizabeth hastened back home and Leopold is still standing firm and being a king—from a distance.

One must wonder at the remarkable astuteness of the reporter who picked up this private conversation between two queens since, clearly, no conversation do not occur before microphones.

One does not pass so easily the reporter's failure to understand that the queen will not give a problem, not on the whims of neighboring crowned heads, but on the sovereign will of her people.

It is not surprising, therefore, to infer that a British royalist thus meddles in foreign affairs.

The British royal family maintains its prestige high, but by virtue of an unfailing gift for minding its own business—exclusively and well.

Tokyo's latest jitter story is that a great Allied invasion force is being built up in the Aleutians. The radium is certainly in the hands of the Allies. He claims to be trying to work them up to suicide frenzy. Maybe he is trying to scare the Japanese but they are not so easily scared as he thinks.

Breads Source of Calcium

This Carbohydrate Food Is Essential to Every Cell in the Body

By MARY ALICE QUAYNE
 It would seem that the consumption of bread is being reduced because it is more "fashionable" to feed with butter and jam. But in spite of all this bread is the basis of the diet and a large percentage of our people.

Bread is a carbohydrate food, and it is the source of energy. It is needed to keep the body warm and keep the various body parts working properly.

However, another substance found in bread is calcium which is needed by every cell in the body. Unfortunately not enough time is given to thinking about this point, despite the fact that we have all the food stuffs rich in calcium.

The eating of more bread might be one method of increasing the daily calcium intake. It is suggested in the Canadian Medical Association Journal by E. M. Semmonds, M.D., of the University of Toronto, and the School of Hygiene, University of Toronto.

Under the auspices of the Committee on Food Analyses of Canada, these research workers investigated the amount of calcium in various breads. They found that the average loaf of bread contains from 1.5 to 2.5 per cent of calcium.

Sift four cups flour with one teaspoon baking powder, one teaspoon salt and one egg. Mix well. Add one to one and one-half cups chopped raisins or other fruit. Bake in two loaves for 45 minutes.

New Race Horse Travel Ban Likely to Localize Sport

By Ted Meier
NEW YORK, July 12.—(AP)—Horse racing in the United States Wednesday became a sectional rather than a national affair.

Comment from horsemen indicated that the new race horse travel ban apparently would localize the sport around New York, Boston, Baltimore and Philadelphia in the east; Chicago in the middle west; and San Francisco on the Pacific coast.

Spokesmen for the various tracks pointed out that while transcontinental journeys would be stopped under the new order of the defense transportation, short hops in private vans or by trailer were feasible.

The localizing of the sport may will affect the big remaining stakes of the season. In other years many horses were shipped from the west to the east for a big stake and vice versa.

Heads of all the New York tracks met late yesterday to discuss the situation, but an spokesman said nothing would be announced until a copy of the official ruling is received from Washington today. Of 50 horses running at Aqueduct Wednesday, 34 were shipped from Belmont to Jamaica. It was hinted that the remainder of New York's racing season would be shifted to Belmont Park where the Saratoga meeting opens next month.

The orders were issued by the office of defense transportation and the Interstate Commerce Commission as a result of wartime transportation crisis. The ban became effective at 3 p.m. C.D.T. Wednesday and will expire at 3 p.m. Thursday unless modified or lifted in the meantime.

NO SIMILAR STEPS TAKEN IN CANADA
MONTREAL, July 12.—(CP)—Canada has not prohibited the transportation of race horses by railroads, because the volume of such traffic doesn't amount to a drop in the bucket.

Officials said yesterday in commenting on the United States move to prohibit movement of race-horses by rail and truck.

Persons transporting race horses in Canada must comply with regulations laid down to assure maximum loading of cars, officials said. It was indicated that as long as regulations were adhered to there would be no change.

Officials pointed out, however, that U.S. race horses coming into Canada do not under U.S. regulations and therefore if travel was prohibited for U.S. horses the prohibition would apply in Canada.

U.S. horses already in travel, "probably" would be allowed transportation out of the country, as long as Canadian regulations were observed.

NEW YORK, July 12.—(BUP)—The navy lifted "censorship" on current news the supposedly super football machine being put together on the assembly line for Admirals at Annapolis, Md., cautioning optimists first of all about awarding the Midshipmen the national championship in advance.

That was the fatal mistake made about the nautical nifties last season when they were heralded as the hottest thing on the gridiron since the invention of pancakes.

Proof that they weren't came when they lost out in their first start late in September to the Cloud-Busters of North Carolina.

NOT TOO OPTIMISTIC
The don't want to get out of the crying towel long before the season begins, yet viewed in the light of the 1944 campaign our football picture is not nearly as fine as some people seem to view it," said head coach, Cmdr. Oscar E. (Swede) Hagberg at Annapolis Tuesday.

He said that the principal obstacles to a successful season were the heavy turnover in personnel, the installation of the fast-breaking "T" formation to replace the single wing, and the probable increase in the strength of most opponents—particularly Army.

ADOPT "T" FORMATION
HAGBERG said that the switch to the "T" formation was made in order to get the fullest possible benefit out of the capabilities of our backfield candidates.

THE BATTLE OF ALBERTA

By Capt. HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

CLOWLY but surely there is a big storm brewing on the rehabilitation horizon. Any day now it is apt to burst with a flood of complaints against the Veterans' Land Act and the officials administering it. Already the first thunderings can be heard from the forces, for the fact is that it isn't easy to get a farm as they thought it was going to be.

But people who hear these complaints will serve themselves, the servicemen, and the country well if they will make sure they get all the pertinent facts before they join the hub and cry for some official's hide.

This Act is of special interest in Alberta where so many of the men in our services are from the farms. From the moment I returned to this province I have heard an increasing number of servicemen complain that departmental officials had been so slow to get them a farm as they thought it was going to be.

CAREFULLY SELECTED

I have taken the complaints to the various superintendents and administrators of the Act to get the facts. I found that the men who are all veterans of the last war, and many of the last war, and every man who is a veteran, and most of them are serving in the service. All of them seem to have been carefully selected.

Most of the men were employed by the Soldiers' Settlement Board before the war. They returned with valuable experience during years of dealing with veterans of the last war, who they met under the old Soldier Settlement Act. They are determined that the failures which marked that act shall not be repeated this time. They know you have to be sure of what you are doing when you set a man up with a 25-acre concession, and a large loan.

HARD BARGAIN

They have already purchased more than 350 specially selected farms at fair prices, they continue. They won't purchase a farm unless they are satisfied from soil surveys, the records of the district, and a careful assessment, that the farm will provide the man with a good living on it. They won't buy unless the price is right. And, many a farmer can tell you, they drive a hard bargain.

The reason they haven't bought more farms is because land prices are inflated and good farms are changing hands at speculative prices in all parts of the province. Land, especially good farms, is in good demand. People with money who want to get it into a "safe" investment. Another difficulty arises out of the tendency for owners of farms to try to "suck" the government. There have been several cases of persons who owned poor farms trying to sell them to the Veterans' Land Act officials in order to get money to buy themselves better ones. And there have been cases of farmers who, because they thought they were selling to the "government," asked excessive prices for farms which the officials wanted to acquire.

TOO PREVALENT

One official found this latter case only too prevalent in his district, so now he advises the returned men to go out in his uniform and see what kind of a deal he can make on his own. Then the official will provide the man with an independent investigation and assessment. If they find they are being "sucked," they found I could save the soldier a lot of money this way, he explained to me. It helps to inform the vendor that the government is not the only agent, and it is the servicemen who pay eventually. The government only lends the money. Most people just haven't any desire to go a returned man. And we must be content with that.

Friday the 13th To Inaugurate New Series Meatless Days Here

But There'll Be Plenty to Eat

Edmonton residents on Friday not only will be faced with the usual problems of the first of the month, one of two such days this year, but there will be additional cause to not a ring around the tree as a result of it inaugurating our new time series under the new rationing program. It is the second time during this year that meat rationing has been introduced. The first period ended in May, 1944.

However, Edmontonians, in spite of the reduction in the availability of meat, still will find themselves in the select company of the best people in the still badly-accursed world.

MANY NEED FOOD

Edmontonians, as they always do, are meeting the need, even adversity, will bear themselves creditably. They know full well that not only the armed forces, but the military head of Germany too ruthlessly, must be fed and nourished.

Mr. Roper declared Thursday that about $5,000,000 had been spent on the highway and he charged that it was not in as good condition as it should be.

The tournament will again be open to the children of the city from 1944 by Jack Newhouse and in 1943 by Dr. J. Ross Van. An attractive fund of additional prizes has been secured.

does not start for some time yet, meatless days in restaurants until further notice will be Tuesday and Friday.

But Edmontonians will not go hungry. Jack Penner, veteran city restaurateur, who has been the mainstay of the Shasta Cafe, said that on the meatless days there would be ample supplies of poultry, fish and eggs and that meat would be supplemented by vegetable dishes that he felt would be most acceptable.

A canvass of 15 restaurants revealed in the expression of similar views.

At the same time it was forecast that in line with the diminishing sugar supplies, the two cups of sugar now being substituted gingerly handed out with cups of coffee would be reduced to one.

However, the general opinion was that while the shortage of meat and sugar would be felt, the shortage of it going a little short would help others who needed help then that shortage of coffee being less of a problem.

Top Livestock To Seek Honors At Exhibition

The cream of Alberta's livestock will be in competition with the finest from the provinces of Saskatchewan, and British Columbia at the summer fair sponsored by the Edmonton Exhibition Association which opens Monday and continues through Saturday.

Another "Sleeper" Awakens To Find Check Is Missing

Here's another one of those "lost, stolen or strayed" walled stories. This time it concerns a city visitor who had a room in a downtown hotel and it was expected he would be asleep on the bed. Several hours later, he awoke, hung up his clothes and got into bed, to continue his slumber.

Grandstand Act For Exhibition Said Good Show

The Exhibition Review of 1945, the grandstand attraction for the Edmonton Exhibition Association's summer fair, is a smartly presented performance, well balanced between comedy and musical ensembles, and ranks with the best shows that have been presented here, according to Charles E. Wilson, managing director of the association, who saw the stage presentation at Calgary on the opening days of the stampede in the southern city.

Other Edmontonians who have seen the show decided to be outstanding entertainment.

The "Fair Folies" who provide the background for the show are a costume group of specialty dancers who perform modern dances. Their Latin American number and "The Magic Rose Garden" are numbers which were well received at Calgary that the artists were recalled several times.

One of the novelties of the show is the breathtaking performance of the Beatles. The Beatles from Brazil, act opened with a young man balanced on his partner's head and was well received by more and more astounding feats.

DDT (dichloro-diphenyl-trichloroethane to the chemist) looms as the savior of vacationers plagued by insects. The most powerful insecticide known, it is a wartime development which soon may be available in quantity for civilian use. That spraying which Terry Roy gives her cottage will remain effective over a period of months. It is so effective, it must be used cautiously to control insects out-of-doors since the spraying of a whole area would also destroy many useful insects such as bees.
